Basements Flooded After Downpour Show Bad Surface Drainage

May Ask for Disconnection of Downspouts from Sanitary Sewer

The problem of drainage will be laid in the laps of the village trustees at the next meeting.

This became certain after the recent heavy rain showed that the sanitary sewer is unable to carry the large amount of surface water now turned into it.

"We are going to have to disconnect our downspouts from the sanitary sewer," said Mayor James McMillen after he had been informed that water backed up into baesments on Main st. near the Scout House.

Mayor McMillen said that it would be necessary to put in a catch basin in the street near the Scout house to carry away the surface water during a heay rain.

Years ago property owners were permitted to connect their residence downspouts to the sanitary sewer under the assumption that the surface water would flush the sewer mains.

Now with its growth, Antioch, like other villages and cities of Lake county, is finding that too much surface water is entering the sanitary sewer.

Not only is the backing up of the sanitary sewer into basements causing a health hazard, but too much flow of surface water into the sewage disposal system makes it less efficient and endangering pollution of streams.

Whether much can be done this summer will be a matter of discussion before the village board. During the dry weather, the condition was not realized. It was only when a sudden downpour came that the lack of proper drainage was realized. An additional sewer line may be necessary to by-pass the flooded areas.

It is probable that those who had flooded basements will be at the board meeting a week from Tuesday to present their trouble.

Woodrow W. Fisher Dist. Legion Cmdr. Killed in Car Crash

Woodrow W. Fisher, 43, Deerfield, tenth district commander of the American Legion, died last Friday night in a traffic accident on Rte. 59A west of Mundelein.

Cmdr. Fisher who is well known by Antioch and Lake Villa American Legion members, was on his way home from a Legion meeting at Fox Lake when he lost control of his car which left the highway at Peterson road, catapulted 35 feet across a creek and burst into flames after landing on its wheels.

Fisher's body was burned beyond recognition.

The Deerfield man was married and the father of two children.

Funeral services were held Tuesday in Deerfield.

Fisher became the 59th traffic fatality. At the same time a year ago there had been but 33 deaths. His death has speeded up the formation of a commission to study the traffic situation and make recommendations.

Blame for accidents, several of which had occurred in the Antioch area recently, has varied from charges that the automobile of today is built too powerful to the influence of intoxicating liquors on the driver. Complaint also is that highways are conducive to drag racing by young people.

Berwyn Angler Dies At Lake Marie, Wed.

Anthony Elias, 69, a retired Berwyn butcher, died Wednesday evening at Lake Marie after being out fishing. Death occurred as he stepped out of his boat at the Sand Bar, around 8:30 p. m., and the Antioch Rescue Squad came immediately to the scene but could not revive him.

County coroner Richard Babcox was called by the squad, who then took the body to Strang's Funeral home. From there he was moved to Berwyn where funeral services will be held this Saturday.

Antioch Driver in Wilmot Race

Ray's Shell Station sponsored a car in the stock car races at Wilmot, Wis., last Saturday. George Ross of Antioch was driver of the car.

On August 4 Ray's Shell Station will sponsor a back-up race at the Wilmot track, and a demolition race on August 18.

Petitions Seek Vote On Abolition of Town Collector in County

Petitions are being circulated seeking a vote on the proposal to remove town collectors and have the work done by the county treasurer and his staff only.

The Farm Bureau is expected to take some kind of action on the matter at its next meeting in August. Its parent group, the Illinois Agriculture Assn. already is on record as opposed to the town collector.

Township groups are lining up for and against the collector and the contest is proving an interesting one.

Village Appropriation Of $163,124 Includes Parking Lot Expense

Antioch's appropriation ordinance totaling $163,124 is published in this issue of the Antioch News.

The ordinance reflects the growth of the village and its administrative needs in that full time sewer and water, and street superintendents are now employed.

Biggest item on the budget is an allowance for a $40,000 expenditure for off-street parking if the board can work out any transaction by which the land can be obtained. This would be paid for out of sales tax.

Appropriation is made for additional paving during the coming year through more fuel tax money.

While the appropriation does not necessarily mean that all of that money will be spent, it merely makes legal the expenditure if necessary.

Little League All-Stars Play Elgin Saturday

The Antioch Little League All-Stars have been working out for their first game Saturday against the Elgin All Stars, under coaches Smith and Bentel. The game will be played at Libertyville at 2 p. m.

The coaches, who narrowed the squad down to fourteen boys last week, feel they have a sharp fielding and good hitting team. The All-Star competition is scheduled so that as soon as a team loses a game it is out of the tournament.

The Little Leaguers on the Antioch All-Star team are Wayne Bentel, Jim Brownlee, Mel Cermak, Daryl Denman, Bud Dittman, Richard Good, George Hogan, Mike Horan, Dennis Kozar, Bill Osga, Joe Pleviak, Charley Smith, Dennis Volling, and Al Wenniger.

A good sized Antioch rooting section is expected at the game Saturday. To get to the field, take route 21 through Libertyville to route 176. Turn left on 176 and the ball park is about one mile east of route 21 on route 176.

Attend Funeral of Half-Sister

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Polley left today for Centralia, Ill., to attend the funeral of Mr. Polley's half-sister, Mrs. Berthold Stover, who died unexpectedly Monday. She leaves the husband and three children. Going to Centralia the Polleys will leave their sons, James and Michael at Normal to visit the maternal grandparents, and returning will be accompanied home by the daughters, Janet and Susan who have been visiting the grandparents.

Represented County Banks

William Brook, Antioch banker, represented the Lake County Bankers Assn. in presenting ribbon awards to the girls giving the best demonstrations in cooking last Friday at Libertyville. A total of 18 girls received awards in cooking and sewing.

State Treasurer Wright To Dedicate Antioch's New Swimming Pool

Aquatic Collegians to Stage High Diving, and Ballet Act

State Treasurer Warren E. Wright will be the speaker at dedication of the new Lions Club Aqua Center at Williams Park Sunday afternoon, Aug. 5.

Loren Sexauer, member of the program committee said that C. R. Keulman has arranged with Wright to be the speaker and the acceptance will be acknowledged in writing in a few days.

The program is rapidly taking shape and will be completed next week.

The big three-in-one parade will take place at 3 p. m. Three bands—the two school bands and a military band—will participate, led by the American Legion color guard. There will be a number of floats, and the fire department and rescue squad will participate.

On arrival at the park the paraders will assemble at the new flag pole where a flag ceremony will be conducted.

After the dedication talk by Wright, a professional group of swimmers known as The Aquatic Collegians will perform. The diving act will include a ballet, featuring synchronized swimming, and comedy. The Collegians comprise four men and two girls, formerly college star swimmers.

County Farm Bureau Will Cooperate in New Safety Campaign Plan

The Lake County Farm Bureau will cooperate fully with the Lake County Safety Commission and will supply its share of members on the council, Richard H. Faulkner, Zion, chairman of the Bureau's safety committee announced.

The announcement came during the observance of Farm Safety Week by the Farm Bureau.

Faulkner said the farmers are not only interested in safety on the highways but safety on the farms. This safety on the farm not only refers to safety from accidents but protection from those who would do harm.

The chairman said that the committee recently conferred with Sheriff Stanley Christian on the possibility of better police protection in the unincorporated areas.

Faulkners' safety committee included Eric Anderson, Millburn; Leroy Wegener, Ingleside; Stanley Rouse, Mundelein; Michael Zimmer and William Beese, Prairie View; and Howard Bonner, Lake Villa.

The County Safety Commission made up of township and village representatives and county-wide groups will attempt to devise ways and means of reducing accidents on the highways.

Breaks Wrist in Fall

Mrs. L. H. Messersmith, wife of the pastor of Millburn Congregational church, suffered a fracture of her left wrist last week when she fell from a small ladder at her home. She expects to recover in time to resume her teaching at Woodland School in Warren township.

Faulty Dive Nets Scalp Injury

Richard Prang, 15, of Loon Lake rd near Millburn, suffered a scalp wound when his head struck the diving board while he was doing a backward flip at the Aqua Center last Friday. Several stitches were taken in closing the wound. Prang was able to make his way to safety after landing in the water, never losing consciouness. Guards at the pool were there to assist him.

A.T.H.S. Band to Compete at State Fair; Present Home Concert Monday, August 6

Antioch Township High School's band will appear in competition at the Illinois State Fair, playing a half hour concert at 3 p. m. Monday, Aug. 13.

The band, now holding regular practice sessions, will be the only Lake county organization appearing in the contest in which 46 bands will compete over a five-day period.

Antioch's band has 60 members playing under the direction of Louis Chenette, head of the music department of the school. Conveyed in school buses the members and parents serving as chaperones will leave early Monday, August 13 and return the following day, spending the night in the Springfield area.

The band will be judged 15 per cent on audience interest, 10 per cent on discipline, and 75 per cent on musicianship.

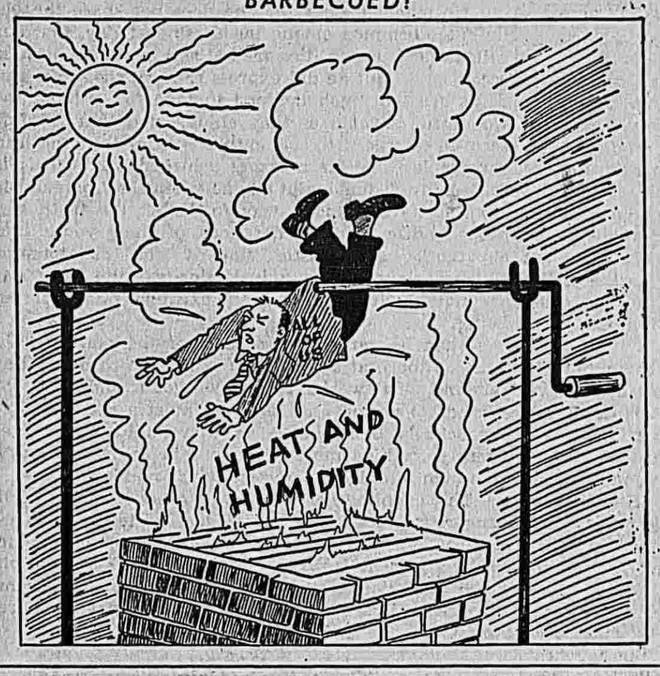

The best band will receive the Governor's trophy.

A sample of the kind of music the Antioch players will produce will be presented to the Antioch public in a free concert at 7 p. m. Monday, Aug. 6 on the school lawn. An hour's concert will be given.

The band will also enter the Chicagoland Music Festival competition at Soldier's Field in Chicago Saturday, Aug. 18. If the band passes the examination it will take part in the festival that night.

Janet Keisler and Karen Lightsey will represent the Antioch Acorns in staging a pantomime number.

Carl Effers Burned When Boat Catches Fire at Grass Lake

Carl Effers, a resident of the Chain of Lakes Game field at Grass lake, received second degree burns about the arms and hands when his inboard motor boat caught fire Saturday afternoon at the Pregenzer resort.

The Antioch fire department was called about 2:45 p. m. but found on arrival that a group of men had extinguished the blaze by sinking the boat. The firemen pumped the water from the boat and floated it again.

A leaking oil or gas line is said to have ignited and set fire to the motor when Effers attempted to start the boat. A big blaze ensued and Effers was burned trying to extinguish it. He was treated by the Antioch Rescue squad.

Damage to the boat which was valued in excess of $2,000 was not determined.

The Antioch firemen went to the Fred Hardin place on Rte. 59 Tuesday evening and burned the rubble from an old barn dismantled by Gordon Wells.

William C. Ingmand Funeral at Waukegan

Funeral services were held Monday in Waukegan for William C. Ingmand, 63, who died last Thursday night at his home, 1193 Main st. in Antioch following a heart attack.

Burial was in Warren cemetery west of Gurnee.

Mr. Ingmand had been a resident of Antioch for the past five years. He was born Nov. 29, 1892 in Red Oak, Mich., and lived in the Waukegan area 27 years before coming to Antioch.

At the time of his death Mr. Ingman was employed at the Hubbell Corp. in Mundelein.

In addition to the widow, the former Madeline Savage, he is survived by two uncles, Dr. Joseph E. Ingmand of Red Oak, and Howard Ingmand of Ashland, O.

F. D. Dittmer, Jr. Takes Part in EADF Meet

Airman First Class Fred D. Dittmer, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred D. Dittmer of Grass Lake, Antioch, is now participating in the huge Eastern Air Defense Force Rocketry Elimination Meet being held at Yuma, Arizona. Dittmer is a Senior Weapons Mechanic for the F-89D Jet Interceptor with the 23rd Fighter Group, the famed Flying Tigers Rocketry Team from Presque Isle Air Force Base, Maine.

Airman Dittmer graduated from Antioch Township High school previous to entering the United States Air Force. After enlisting on Oct. 16, 1952, Dittmer attended the Radio Operator Technical School at Keeler AFB, Mississippi, and also the Primary Weapons School at Lowry Air Force Base, Denver, Colo. He has served in Iceland before being assigned to Presque Isle AFB, Me., in October, 1954.

The winners of the rocket meet will represent the Eastern Air Defense Force in the Air Defense Command Meet to be held in September. The 23rd Fighter Group recently won the 32nd Air Division Meet held at Griffis Air Force Base, Rome, N. Y., and are now representing the 32nd Air Division at the EADF Meet.

The Lake County fair opened today at its new and permanent home on Rte. 45 north of Rte. 120 east of Grayslake.

Although the grounds opened at 10 a. m. and judging started then, the official opening was at 1 p. m. with the raising of the flag by the American Legion color guard from Grayslake in the presence of 4-H Club members of the county to whom the flag was presented by the post.

This is 4-H Club day at the fair and tonight's program will feature a number of skits by 4-H clubs who participated in the county Share-the-Fun festival. Antioch's 4-H club will be represented.

Early this afternoon there was a pet parade and early this evening 24 candidates for the Queen of the Fair honors will be presented to the crowd. Later in the evening the 18 winners of the 4-H demonstration and style revue who will go to the Illinois State Fair, will be presented.

Mostly a Tent City

Two permanent animal shelters have been built at the new fair grounds this year. The rest of the exhibits will be in tents. By next year an administration building housing the Farm Bureau offices will be built and more exhibition buildings erected.

The art exhibit this year is larger than ever. This reflects the broadening of interest in the change of the county from agriculture to residential, although the agricultural exhibits are just as large as ever.

The fair is more than double the size that it was in its earlier days when it was situated 10 years ago in Antioch using the high school grounds. It was such men as the late C. L. Kutil, Dr. G. W. Jensen, Antioch, and D. H. Minto, Deep

Classes in Swimming To Begin Next Monday At New Aqua Center

One hundred and fifty paid registrations and 30 more to be paid indicate the size of the classes in swimming that will be started Monday at the Aqua Center in Williams park.

Supt. Warren Polley said that Intermediate swimmers and life saving students will have their lessons at 10 a. m. and beginners at 11 a. m. Monday through Thursday for the next four weeks. The pupils range in age from 10 years to adults.

During the warm weather this week the pool was a popular place.

James Runyard, township road supervisor, repaired the grades that were eroded by rains and Jack Sobey is laying 700 yards of sod on the north and east side of the pool as a part of the landscaping.

Lions Carnival to Run Five Days Next Week

The Lions Club carnival will open next Wednesday on the Ackerman grounds on Broadway. This is the last of three carnivals that are held yearly in Antioch.

The carnival, which will be here for five days, will open at 7 p. m. for the first four nights. On Sunday, August 5, it will open immediately after the Aqua Center dedication ceremony.

Along with five rides (ferris wheel, merry-go-round, tilt-o-whirl, and two kiddy rides—the small cars and jets), the Lions carnival will also offer 13 booths, including a refreshment booth and coke stand.

Antioch Township Tax Bills Will Be Mailed By Collector Monday

No Gravel Assessment May Mean Reduced Bill for Some Taxpayers

Tax Statements will be in the mail next week for Antioch township property owners, John L. Horan, collector, announced today. The bills are being made out this week and addressed ready for mailing.

The bills will bring both sad and glad news according to location of property as to school district. There will be no special road and gravel assessment this year whereas last year it was 8.8 cents on the $100 valuation. On the other hand the county and bond is up 6.3 cents.

Compared with last year the tax schedule is as follows:

Taxing Unit	1955	1956
County and bond	$.180	$.243
Town of Antioch	.114	.130
Road and bridge	.080	.080
Vil. of Antioch & bond	.224	.204
Library	.034	.035
Antioch Fire Protection District	.029	.027
Fox Lake Fire Protection District	.031	.029
School Districts	1955	1956
9—McHenry County	.470	.453
10—Lotus	.877	.789
24—Millburn	.668	.683
27—Hickory	.588	.558
33—Emmons	.500	1.065
34—Antioch Grade	1.088	1.021
35—Channel Lake	1.001	1.109
36—Grass Lake	.944	.923
117—Lake Villa H. S. Consolidated	1.267	.786
117—Antioch H. School	.820	.786
124—Grant H. School	1.212	1.227

Seven of the 11 school districts show a reduction in rate. Emmons Dist. 33 because of its building program showed a big jump this year, while the rate at Millburn, Channel Lake and Grant High School district that overlaps into Antioch township show but slight increases.

On the average, most bills will be about the same as last year in Antioch and only slightly more in the township outside.

Horan says that the growth of the township in number of new homes will mean many more statements and greater income.

Tax bills are to be paid to the tax collector at one or the other of the Antioch banks during the month of August. After Aug. 31 they must be paid to the county treasurer in Waukegan.

July Rainfall Heavy, But Small Areas Dry; Corn, Soybeans Good

July, usually a month of beginning drouth, this year has been a month of continued heavy rains in widespread areas. Both southwest Missouri and Western Illinois reported 10 inches of rain by mid-July. The rain, coming as a result of heavy thunder shower activity, has pretty well covered the entire western corn belt, but with such showers, some areas are deluged while other small areas may be dry.

Crop prospects for the two major corn belt cash crops—corn and soybeans—are excellent. The large area west of the Mississippi, where over winter sub-soil moisture was deficient, has been kept adequately supplied and no sign of corn crop deterioration exists over any sizeable area. Soybeans, on the largest acreage ever, are in wonderful condition and promise to be a bumper crop. Illinois, the largest producing state, reports a 9 per cent increase in acreage and Iowa and Minnesota, other large producers, report an 18 per cent increase.

The government corn crop estimate of 3,267 million bushels on July 1 will be considerably advanced by August 1, if present conditions are maintained. Corn is now tasseling in most of the western two-thirds of the corn belt and must now be well supplied with moisture for the next month to make a full crop.

Dry weather is favorable to grasshopper increase, and the area of low subsoil moisture last fall and winter are experiencing grasshopper damage. In Missouri, Iowa and even Minnesota, DeKalb seed corn crop observers report spraying for grasshopper control in their states. But current wet weather and abundant vegetation tend to limit damage of this insect of hot, dry areas.

Farmers demonstrate their efficient land use by double cropping. Soybeans are being sowed after wheat harvest in many areas. One central Illinois farmer harvested 60 bushels of wheat per acre and then sowed beans. Corn hailed out in southwest Iowa was replanted in mid-July with a 90 day variety.

Economic Highlights

Every now and then some American community finds itself in deep economic trouble—a possibility that is greatest in areas which are heavily dependent on one industrial company or one farm crop for their wherewithal. Then, as the Wall Street Journal points out, varied courses of community action are open. A common one is to turn to the government for assistance, and have the town named a "distressed area." But this, even if successful, usually turns out to be only palliative. And, the paper says, "the palliative, by removing the sense of urgency, has too often deterred the peopple themselves from building their community better."

Another course of action is for the community to get down to work and solve its problems by its own efforts. An outstanding example of this is South Bend, Indiana. John D. Williams, also writing in the Wall Street Journal, tells what has been done here.

For a century, South Bend was pretty much a one-company town, and Studebaker (now Studebaker-Packard) was the company. If Studebaker was doing well, the town did well. If Studebaker suffered hard times and cut the payroll, the town felt that in its vitals.

Studebaker, together with some other motor companies, has been undergoing financial storms. According to Mr. Williams, it "is having the toughest time of its century." South Bend naturally hopes the company will come back and prosper. But, important as Studebaker is to South Bend, it is no longer the dominant factor. As an ex-mayor told Mr. Williams, "There's not that desperate feeling any more."

This change in attitude stems from the fact that South Bend is not now a one-company town. Some three years ago a committee was established and a delegation was sent to Birmingham, Alabama, to study that city's extremely successful booster group. Then $385,000 was raised to promote the South Bend area "as a good place for new business."

The going wasn't easy. In the first year, not even one new company was gained. A blow was suffered when the Singer Manufacturing company moved elsewhere. The committee redoubled its efforts. Person-to-person sales talks were made to likely prospects. One factory came in. Then another. Mr. Williams writes, "And so the parade grew, each little bit adding up to a lot."

All in all, about 24 new companies have come to South Bend and the neighboring town of Mishawaka. Their products include doors, industrial displays, furniture, sun glasses, tools, plastic boats and so on. The committee is still hard at work, and ambitious plans are in being for new and modern industrial areas.

As a result, despite Studebaker's troubles and greatly reduced employment, South Bend savings deposits, retail sales, residential construction, and other standard barometers of economic conditions are holding up and in osme cases showing gains. South Bend people, Mr. Williams reports, are "convinced they've weathered their worst economic storms; the town is shored up, battened down and determined to stay prosperous."

The moral is expressed in the last line of the Wall Street Journal's editorial: "It remains true that whatever people build for themselves is the best built."

"Nothing More Dangerous"

Dr. Robert Wilson, chairman of the Board of Standard Oil of Indiana, was the commencement speaker at Hastings College graduation ceremonies. His young listeners heard some wise and important words.

He made it clear that he does not share the belief, "too common among businessmen today, that our colleges and universities are hotbeds of communism or socialism." But he did express concern that "our students are too much inclined to take for granted the wonderful advantages they enjoy," and that "so few seem to emerge with real enthusiasm for the American way of life and its amazing achievements." This is "especially disturbing at a time when the Communists seem to have found a way to distort the truth and propagandize whole generations of their youth into apparently enthusiastic support for dictatorships which enslave the individual, glorify brute force, decry individualism and deny the existence of a Supreme Being."

Then he came to the heart of the matter: "We must do more at all levels of education to better understand what we have, how we got it and what we must do to preserve it. And we must make sure that our schools build ideals as they build knowledge. There is nothing more dangerous in the world today than high intelligence coupled with low ideals."

This coupling has brought on a series of the most destructive wars in history. It has led to the enslavement of entire peoples. It has made, in much of the world, a grim jest of the "dignity of man" concept on which Christian civilization and individual freedom alike rest. Dr. Wilson's warning could not be more timely.

"Grass Roots Opinion"

CHILDRESS, TEXAS, REPORTER: "An American and a Dutchman were talking. 'What does your flag look like?' asked the American. 'It has three stripes,' replied the Dutchman, 'red, write and blue. We say they have a connection with our taxes: we get red when we talk about them, white when we get our tax bills, and pay till we're blue in the face.' 'That's just how it is here,' commented the American, 'only we see stars too."

SAC CITY, IOWA, SUN: "A few days ago The Sac City Sun editor was talking with a man who came over from one of the old countries about 40 years ago. He settled down and went to work. Today he owns a nice Iowa farm and has other property which he calls his own. . . . He says, 'It couldn't have been done anywhere else but in America.'"

CHISHOLM, MINN., TRIBUNE: "Walter T. Carroll, a 44-year-old farmer . . . was sent to jail on a contempt of court charge because he didn't think it was any of the federal government's business to tell him how many acres of crops he could plant on his own farm. . . . Maybe he was wrong about being so stubborn in this regard. Maybe he is just a sucker for refusing to go along with the common herd. But maybe, also, Walter Carroll remembers that protecting individual rights and freedoms wasn't an insignificant issue to the men who founded this nation. . . ."

DUNDEE, N. Y. OBSERVER: "Let private industry handle the Niagara (hydroelectric) project and pay its taxes. Otherwise, if a tax-exempt government agency takes over, the taxes it escapes will be collected from the rest of us."

HEALTH TALK

Brucellosis—Weakening Malady

Undulant fever, or brucellosis or Bang's disease, as it is known in animals, is a debilitating condition that seems to sap the strength of its victims. Because it is transmitted to human beings from cows, swine and goats, the disease is an occupational hazard to farmers and veterinarians, according to the Educational Committee of the Illinois State Medical Society in Health Talk.

The illness may be moderate in nature; again it may be so severe that the patient is prostrated for months. It gets the name undulant fever because the temperature rises and falls several times daily. The symptoms vary, but generally complaints are headaches, fatigue, chills, backache, loss of appetite; constipation usually preceded by diarrhea; profuse perspiration; nervousness, mental depression, sleeplessness, pain in abdomen, joints or muscles and progressive loss of weight and strength.

Because the disease mimics so many other conditions, laboratory tests are essential to establish a definite diagnosis. The most frequently used are the agglutination test and blood cultures in which the patient's blood is examined.

Human beings contract undulant fever by drinking milk or cream that has not been pasteurized, or eating meat from an infected animal that has not been cooked properly. The causative germs may enter the body through a cut or bruise on the skin. This is particularly true of veterinarians, dairy farmers, meat inspectors, packing house workers and butchers.

While the disease is seldom fatal in man, it has a devastating effect on cattle, resulting in catastrophic losses to farmers. Present day methods of inspection have reduced the heavy toll. Frequent testing of cattle and destruction of those found to be infected have materially assisted in eradicating the disease. Even with these precautions, economic losses still run into the millions of dollars, since the disease causes abortion, decreased milk flow and results in temporary or permanent infertility in cattle.

Undulant fever is a threat to persons visiting rural areas, even though farmers and cattlemen are constantly on the alert to prevent or detect the disease. Vacationers in rural areas should be sure that dairy products are properly pasteurized, and persons with cuts or burises ontheir hands should wear protective gloves when handling cows, swine or goats.

A person ill with undulant fever does not communicate it to others. It is directly transmissible from animals. But the person who contracts the condition will most likely be bedridden for weeks and months.

Once the condition is contracted, little can be done to bring about early recovery. Bed rest and good care through the weeks of disability are essential. Some drugs, or a combination of them have proved helpful to cut short and cure an appreciable number of cases. It is to be hoped that present research will yield information of value.

Undulant fever is a reportable disease in Illinois, both for human beings and cattle. And Illinois law makes proper inspection and vaccination of herds mandatory. The law is designed to protect the health of the community—and the community may be yours. Every person can cooperate in the program to eradicate undulant fever by demanding properly pasteurized milk and dairy products.

YESTERDAYS

What was the big news in Antioch 28 years ago?

In the June 7, 1928 issue of the Antioch News, community improvements were the big story.

"With building and other improvements estimated to cost $250,000, Antioch and vicinity has launched into another mammoth building program for the year 1928. Over $150,000 is distributed over the village for improvements and building projects, including the erection of many homes, business buildings and the new fine grade school building, now in course of construction by J. E. Sibley and Son, and which represents the largest single investment in the village, about $40,000."

On June 29 Route 59 opened to traffic, and a News story stated, "Now there's pavement all the way to Grand avenue and Fox Lake."

"A Matching Cape with Every Street Frock is Fashion's Latest" was the big news for the ladies that summer:

"Planning a made-to-order street frock are you? Be sure to see to it that your tailor or dressmaker styles it with a cape. Decided to buy a 'ready-made'? Of course you will select a cape model, for capes are the 'last word.'

Some of the society items in 1928 included the following:

"Miss Marguerite Kufalk and Clarence Kufalk entertained about 20 young people at a swimming party at Lake Marie and a 'weiner' roast held on their lawn last Thursday evening. Their guests included Leona and Phyllis Hennings, Charles and Beatrice Hawkins, Edward and George Slater, Mary, Margaret, and Edward Galliger, Lena and William Nelson, Hazel Tweed, Elmer Baethke, and Arthur Anderson.

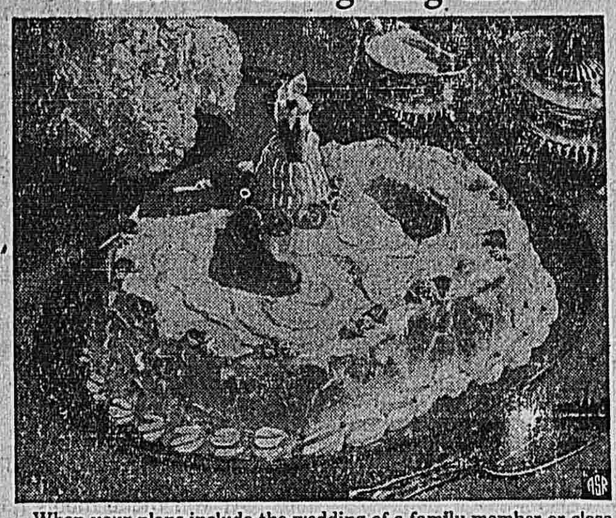

"Born to Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Felter was a daughter, Joan Lee, on July third at Elgin Hopital."

"Mrs. Ben Burke entertained eight ladies at her summer home at Bluff Lake last Thursday noon at a 12:30 luncheon. The ladies enjoyed the afternoon playing bridge. Mrs. Barret of Chicago won first prize and Mrs. Hester Garland, second."

"Elizabeth Gaston was very much surprized Sunday evening when twenty of her school friends dropped in for sprprise party Friday. Betty celebrated her 16th birthday, and they had planned to have the party that day, but she suspected it so they changed it to Sunday and it was indeed a surprise to her. They played games and entertained themselves as young folks always can."

News items from Antioch Township High School told that 175 students had enrolled for classes in the fall, and also listed menus from the school's cafeteria. Typical foods and prices for one day were creamed veal and pork, 10c; parsley potatoes, 5c; autumn salad, 5c; buttered beets, 5c; dill pickles and olives, 1c each; cookies, 3c; cheese sandwiches, 2 for 5c; and prune fluff, 5c.

Double Wedding Ring Cake

When your plans include the wedding of a family member or close personal friend, make a double wedding ring cake to add to the festivities. The making's easy because the "rings" are two packaged un-iced angel food cakes from your grocer's ready-to-eat cake department, and fillings and frosting can also come from your grocery store. The assembling is fun.

Double Wedding Ring Cake

2 packaged un-iced angle food cakes
1½ cups strawberry preserves
1 cup apricot jam
Sweetened whipped cream

Slice each cake crosswise into 4 even layers. Reassemble layers and hold together with toothpicks. Cut a wedge of cake from one cake ring, as big as needed to make the 2 cake rings look joined when they are pushed together. Place cake rings on wax paper lined tray. Remove toothpicks. Spread bottom cake layers with half of the strawberry preserves. Top with second layers. Spread with apricot jam. Cover with third cake layers and spread with remaining strawberry preserves. Top with fourth cake layers. Push rings together securely. Chill several hours. Cut off excess waxed paper. Lift cake to serving dish. Frost completely with whipped cream or other frosting. Decorate with prepared candy decorations, or with pastry tube. Makes 20 to 24 servings.

Welcome New Antioch Citizens Into World

Three new prospective citizens of Antioch were welcomed into the world last week when a boy and two girls were born to three pair of Antioch parents.

The first of the three was born to Mr. and Mrs. James Kanka of Grass Lake on Friday at Victory Memorial hospital. The daughter, Joyce Ann, who weighted 5 pounds, 9 ounces at birth is the second Kanka child; the other is a boy.

Weighing 8 pounds, 6 ounces, another girl was born into the family of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hevedejs of Route 21 at 3:45 a. m. on Sunday. The baby, who might be named Susan Mary, is the third daughter in the Hevedejs family. She was born at Victory hospital.

A boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Wallace E. Gann, also of Route 21, on Tuesday at Condell Memorial hospital in Libertyville.

Lakes DeMolays Plan To Visit Kansas City

The Lakes Chapter Order of DeMolay is going traveling! On August 10, 11 and 12, they will be guests of the Kansas City, Missouri, Chapter of DeMolay along with DeMolays from Bartlesville, Oklahoma.

This trip, which has been in the planning for over a year, will begin at 7:30 p.m. on August 10 when the Lakes Chapter DeMolays will board a bus and travel all night, stopping at cities such as Springfield, Ill., and Jacksonville to visit with DeMolay chapters for a few hours.

They plan to arrive in Kansas City about 12 noon on Saturday, August 11, when they will be taken on a tour of that city after which the Kansas City DeMolays are giving a dance in honor of Lakes Chapter in a downtown hotel in Kansas City. Escorts for the local youths will be from the Assembly of Rainbow in Kansas City.

The Lakes DeMolays will stay with the Kansas City DeMolays in their homes on Saturday night. This will be the first time that any chapter in the state of Illinois has traveled to visit the International Supreme Council Headquarters of DeMolay which is also located in Kansas City. While there the Lakes Chapter DeMolays will meet the founder of DeMolay, Frank S. Land, past imperial potentate of the Shrine.

Library News

Many new books are on the library shelves since a shipment of over 40 new books has been received by the Antioch Public Library.

Included among the new non-fiction books is "Magic, Myth, and Medicine," a history of medical science through the ages by D. T. Atkinson, M. D. "The Pitiful and the Proud," by Carl T. Novon, is a prize-winning reporter's first-hand account of the racial, political, and economic forces at work beneath the turmoil in India, Pakistan, and Southeastern Asia.

A biography of Jackie Gleason, "The Golden Ham," by Jim Bishop, and "Olympio," a life story of Victor Hugo, by Andrie Maurois, are also included in the new non-fiction books.

Turning to the realm of fiction, three of the new books in this field are "If I Forget Thee" by Robert S. deRopp, "A Single Pebble" by John Hersey, and "Guestward Ho!", by Barbara Hooton as told to Patrick Dennis.

A new Marjorie Kinnan Rawlings book, "The Secret River," is among the books added to the library in the children's section. For boys, especially, there are two new baseball books: "Bats and Gloves of Glory" by Marion Renick, and "The Pee Wee Reese Story" by Gene Schoor.

Especially featured for teenage girls is Kay Hardy's book, "Make Your Own," a book of ideas on how to make clothes, accessories and gifts.

Women of the Moose Hold Business Meeting

Balloting on new candidates was held when the Women of the Moose, Antioch Chapter 735, held their regular business meeting last Thursday, July 19, at the Moose Home.

The annual picnic for the Loyal Order of Moose Lodge 525 to be held on August 5 was discussed. All members and their families are welcomed to this picnic, which will be held at Fox River Grove. Publicity and Mooseheart committees will sell barbecued hamburgers and coffee on the picnic grounds.

The WOTM charter was draped and will remain draped for 30 days to revere the memory of Mrs. Ray Latal.

Dodgers Win First Round L. L. Title; Second Round Starts

Beating the Sox Sunday and the Giants Thursday, the Dodgers have won the Little League championship in the first round of play. The final standings for the first round are as follows:

Team	Sponsor	Won	Lost	Pct.
Dodgers,	L. V. Drugs	5	2	.714
Yankees,	Nat'l Bank	5	3	.625
Tigers,	State Bank	4	3	.571
Giants,	Ant. Lumber	3	3	.500
Cubs,	Ant. Servicenter	4	4	.500
Sox,	Dupre Heating	0	6	.000

The Dodgers had only a seven game schedule in the first round and with five wins and two losses, beat out the Yanks who had an eight game schedule, and won five and lost three.

In the next round of play the teams that had a seven game schedule will play eight games. Each team will play the other team three times for the first and second round season play.

The standings for the second round of play as of Sunday night, July 22, were as follows:

Team	Sponsor	Won	Lost	Pct.
Yankees,	Nat'l Bank	3	0	1.000
Cubs,	Ant. Servicenter	2	0	1.000
Tigers,	State Bank	1	2	.333
Dodgers,	L. V. Drugs	0	1	.000
Sox,	Dupre Heating	0	3	.000

Most of last week's Little League schedule was rained out. The Sox-Dodger game Sunday, the Yankee-Cub game Wednesday, and the Dodger-Giant game on Thursday were all called off and will be played later on at the end of the schedule in August.

The Cubs and Giants had a tight game on Tuesday night with the Cubs winning 4 to 3. Batteries for the Cubs were Lang and Brownlee, and Osga and Furlan for the Giants.

The Yankees shut out the Sox Sunday 9 to 0. Bown was the winning pitcher for the Yanks and pitched three innings giving up only one hit and striking out eight. Wenniger came in to relieve Brown in the fourth inning and gave up only one hit in the three inings he pitched. Good was the catcher for the Yanks.

The games scheduled for next week are as follows:

Thursday, July 26, 6:30
Giants vs. Tigers
Friday, July 27, 6:30
Yankees vs. Giants
Sunday, July 29, 1:00
Cubs vs. Sox
Tuesday, July 31, 6:30
Dodgers vs. Tigers
Wednesday, Aug. 1, 6:30
Giants vs. Dodgers.

Auto Wheel and Tire Make Good Life Saver

If you're vacationing on a lake or seashore this summer, don't forget that your automobile is equipped with a handy, effective life preserver.

According to the Institute for Safer Living of the American Mutual Liability Insurance company, the spare auto wheel and tire fully inflated can be used as a satisfactory life saving ring preserver. It can be used as a life raft for several persons from an upset boat, for tests show it will readily support three or four persons. It can be quickly rolled from the car to water and pushed out to reach a swimmer in trouble.

A person untrained in rescue methods can help save a drowning person in this manner: simply by grasping the wheel firmly and propelling it by kicking with legs and feet until the victim is reached. Remember, however, to keep calm and keep the wheel between rescuer and rescued. If the victim cannot assist you to return to shore, both persons should remain quiet and support themselves on the tire until help arrives.

The institute suggests that waterside vacationers be sure that the spare tire is kept inflated to proper level, lug loosened and ready to be removed from the car and kept near the water if possible.

It makes good life-saving sense to have this emergency rescue aid always handy. Widely endorsed by police departments and water safety authorities, the Institute notes these important precautions:

—Never use this device as a floating toy—its heavy and rough and may cause injury.

—If you can't swim, it's safer to move the tire to the drowning person by a stick, pole or oar.

—Never throw the tire to or at the person—he might be hit by the heavy object or it might land out of his reach.

—Never consider this device as a substitute for knowing how to swim or knowing water rescue work. Surest way to avoid drownings is to have every member of the family be a competent swimmer and Red Cross trained in life-saving.

False Claims Made In Letters to Those Wanting License Back

Springfield, Ill. — Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier today warned Illinois motorists to beware of persons who represent themselves as being influential in obtaining the reinstatement of licenses following suspension or revocation under the Drivers License Act.

Secretary Carpentier says his office has received evidence that persons whose licenses have been revoked frequently receive letters to the effect that the author can be of assistance in obtaining not only the insurance required by the Financial Responsibility Law but also a quick reinstatement of the revoked or suspended license.

The cleverly phrased letters make the inference that the Secretary's Office is favoring certain insurance companies by furnishing them with the names of the persons who have been revoked or suspended and are required to file Proof of Financial Responsibility.

Secretary Carpentier stated that the inference made in those letters is not correct. He pointed out that revocation and suspension actions taken by his office are public information, and as such are released to newspapers for publication. Most newspapers print the names of persons in their circulation areas who have been revoked or suspended, Secretary Carpentier said.

Mr. Carpentier said he is investigating the authors of the misleading letters for possible violations of the law, and any information indicating violations will be turned over to the proper authorities.

Farm Gas Tax Refund Forms and Instruction Pamphlets Available

Delbert J. Luippold, Acting Director of Internal Revenue for the Chicago District, announced today that he now has available a supply of the Form to be used by farmers to claim refunds of the Federal tax paid on gasoline and certain other fuels. The official Forms 2240 may be obtained by writing or calling the Director's Office at 22 West Madison street, or any of the Internal Revenue branch office. They may also be obtained through local county agricultural agents and at many banks and post offices in the district. The public law authorizing this refund was approved by the President on April 2, 1956.

A 15-page pamphlet describing in plain language the procedure to be followed is also available. The pamphlet is titled, "Farmers' Gas Tax Refund," Publication No. 308.

Luippold pointed out that the new law authorizing this refund provides criminal penalties for filing a false or fraudulent claim on Form 2240. It also provides that any person who claims an excessive amount is liable to a penalty equal to two times the excessive amount, or $10, whichever is greater.

Cost of Assistance To Dependents Up

Springfield, Il.—August grants for old age assistance, blind assistance, disability assistance and aid to dependent children in 91 counties will reflect increases in food allowances made by the Illinois Public Aid Commission as a result of the regularly scheduled food price survey conducted throughout the state during the week of June 9, Garrett W. Keaster, the commissior's executive secretary, announced today. State law provides that food price surveys be made at least twice a year.

The June survey revealed a rise in food prices of 3 per cent or more over current allowances in all but 11 counties. Counties in which the rise was less than 3 per cent and in which, accordingly, no increase in food allowances will be made, are: Cass, DeWitt, Grundy, Henderson, Jefferson, Massac, Randolph, Shelby, Union, Wabash, and Warren. Costs in these 11 counties however, earlier reached dollar levels close to or exceeding those now reached by the other counties in the recent survey, Keaster said.

The June 1956 pricing of a market basket for a hypothetical family of four in Lake county compared with the cost of the same market basket in the food price survey month which determined current allowances, was $78.39 compared with $73.43 in October 1954, an increase of 6.8 per cent. Actual allowances for individuals and families are developed from these market basket figures and charts.

The official allowances are then supplied the county departments of welfare. The hypothetical family figures, accordingly, should not be interpreted as the amount of any given individual or family is now allowed, or will be allowed in the calculation of his August grant.

Teen-Agers Unjustly Maligned; Majority Are Industrious, Good

Lurid publicity about a tiny minority of teen age delinquents has blinded us to the solid achievements and ideals of the typical youngsters which constitute 95 per cent of American youth today.

Writing in their defense, in the August Reader's Digest, Margaret Culkin Banning says this vast majority of teen-agers "has never been before the police, even for such a minor offense as breaking a window."

Surveys have shown that teenagers place a high value on education. Their willingness to work at part-time and summer jobs refutes any accusation of decadence; indeed their earnings and allowances give them an annual purchasing power of four billion dollars.

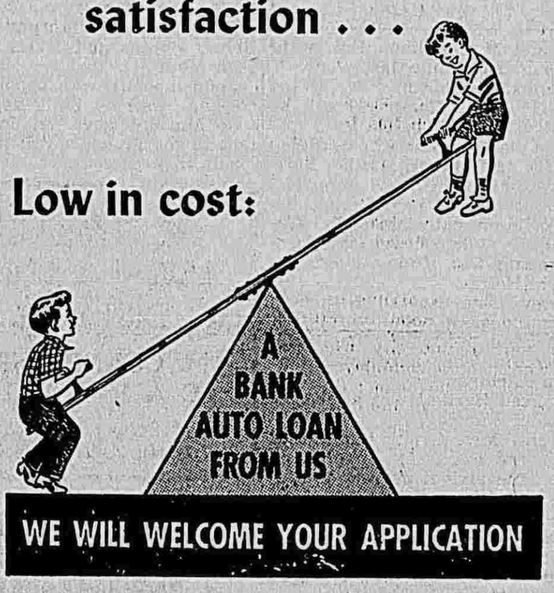

More adolescents than ever before participate in church activities. Millions of them join the Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, the Boys' Clubs and similar youth organizations. Everywhere they are taking prominent parts in community betterment.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture lists over two million farm boys and girls who are bringing credit and profit to themselves as members of the 4-H clubs. In the cities some 40,000 belong to Junior Achievement, which trains teen-age groups in business methods and problems by teaching them to organize and operate small companies of their own.

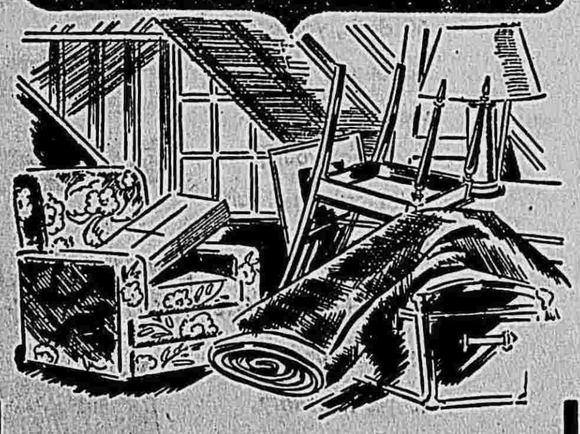

Alarming statistics about delinquency are often misleading. Police Commissioner Kennedy of New York City points out that boys and girls are more closely watched by the police than formerly; hence minor offenses and even warnings get on the record. The object is to nip in the bud any tendency to delinquency. But the statistics tend to exaggerate the facts.

A small minority of teen-agers has smeared the reputation of youth. The activities of the 95 per cent majorities "provide heartening evidence of character and capacity," Mrs. Banning concludes.

New Way To Launder White Nylon

White nylon lingerie and blouses are "basic" in almost every homemaker's wardrobe today—but it has been only recently that scientists have found a way to keep white nylon garments from getting a gray or yellow cast after repeated launderings.

Research by Dr. Elaine Weaver, of Ohio State University, has developed this three-step method for restoring the sparkling whiteness of lingerie and blouses:

First, wash the garment thoroughly in hot water and a controlled suds detergent. Dr. Weaver's tests showed that even the most fragile nylon garments could be automatically laundered with this method.

Next, add two tablespoons of a liquid chlorine bleach and two tablespoons of the controlled suds detergent to a gallon of water. Immerse the garment and soak for 30 minutes.

Last, rinse the garment thoroughly in warm water until the odor of the bleach is removed.

This three-step method will eliminate any dullness which has resulted from inadequate washing, lukewarm water or poor rinsing.

If discoloration remains from dye transference (white nylon garments should always be washed separately from colored items), one additional step will remove the remaining color. Dissolve one package of commercial color remover in one gallon of hot water (160 degrees) in an enamel container. Stir the garment gently for 30 to 60 minutes at the maintained 160-degree temperature. Rinse thoroughly in hot water until no odor of the color remover remains.

Thanks to Dr. Weaver's practical-minded research, white nylon garments may now retain their original white freshness.

What About School 12 Months a Year?

"Should Illinois public schools operate 12 months instead of 9 or 10?" asks the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois in reviewing the increased minimum required by action of the 69th General Assembly. The minimum school year was increased from 8 monts to 9 months, effective for the first time in the 1955-56 school year.

When only 110 days of actual teaching were required by law, children had long "vacations" in order to help plant and harvest crops; trips were limited to summer time because of modes of travel and road conditions. Present-day conditions no longer call for school buildings to sit idle for 2 or 3 months out of every year.

Present-day demands for more classrooms, with enrollment increases of 50,000 children each year predicted for the next 10 years, should present considerable argument for 12-month school terms of 4 quarters each.

Illinois school district plants are valued at $1,376,066,249. More than $100 million a year is presently being expended to build new classrooms. These expensive plants are in many instances overcrowded 9 or 10 months of the year and are vacated for the remainder.

The Taxpayers' Federation takes the position that by allowing more than one billion dollars worth of school plants to sit idle 2 or 3 months out of every year Illinois taxpayers are allowing a waster of space; teaching power; opportunities for accelerated programs for bright students; maintenance costs for unused buildings; maintenance costs for additional buildings and opportunities for more money for teachers.

As we said before—
It's a Great Time to Buy a Buick

WE'VE BEEN SAYING for some weeks now that you really ought to come see us for the buy of your life—and we're not fooling.

There's never been a better time to buy a new Buick than right now—and we list here 3 solid facts that make this gospel.

Fact No. 1: Since it's only July, you have a lot of wonderful driving weather ahead.

Fact No. 2: Your present car is at its peak worth right now.

Fact No. 3: Buick gives you more solid automobile for your money than ever before—as witness how Buick outsells every other car in America except two of the well-known smaller ones.

So why hold back another week, another day?

Why deny yourself the fun of bossing the mightiest Buick V8 yet?

Why pass up the world's most luxurious ride—and the magnificent ease of handling that goes with Buick's great new travel?

Most pointedly, why miss out on the most modern thing on wheels—Variable Pitch Dynaflow*...

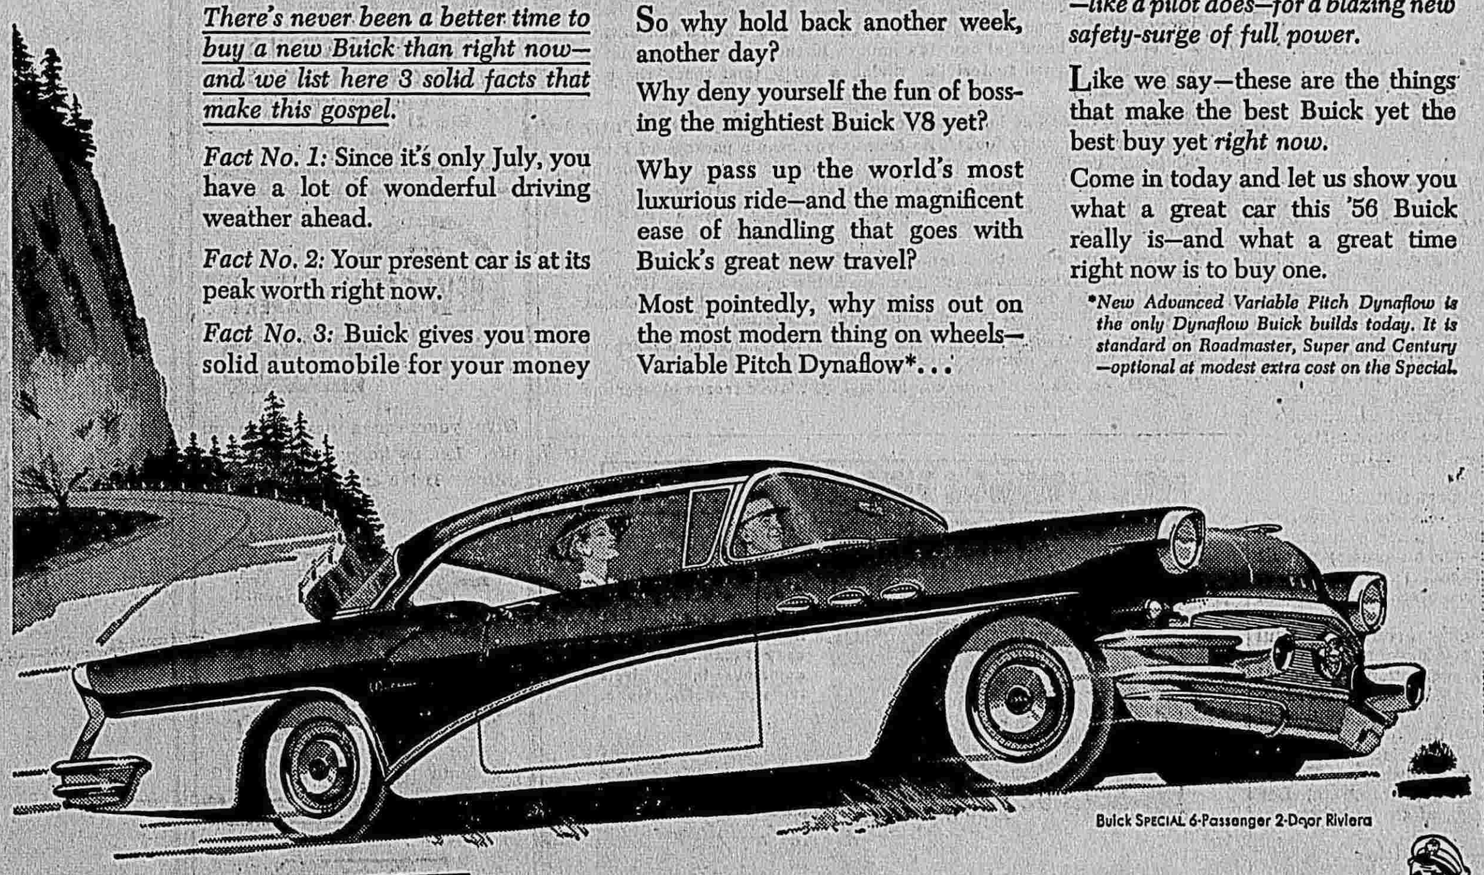

Where the top inch of pedal travel gives you brand-new getaway, plus brand-new gas savings...

And where you can switch the pitch—like a pilot does—for a blazing new safety-surge of full power.

Like we say—these are the things that make the best Buick yet the best buy yet right now.

Come in today and let us show you what a great car this '56 Buick really is—and what a great time right now is to buy one.

New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.*

Commerce Commission Approves Dual-Fuel Plan

Illinois Commerce Commission has approved Northern Illinois Gas Company's dual-fuel plan to provide space heating service to customers on a part time basis effective July 30.

Northern Illinois Gas had filed the dual-fuel plan with the Commission earlier this month in a further effort to afford some measure of relief to customers waiting gas for space heating.

Customers who desire to take advantage of the proposed plan and whose heating equipment can be modified would install dual-fuel control equipment which automatically substitutes an alternate fuel for natural gas when the outside temperature reaches a designated low point that the company indicates probably will be 32 degrees Fahrenheit.

Marvin Chandler, president of the utility, emphasized, however, that dual-fuel service will provide only partial relief to some of the customers on the company's space heating waiting list which now approximates 160,000 in Northern Illinois Gas territory.

"Providing complete heating service to any substantial number of those now on our waiting list will be dependent upon completion of the Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America's expansion program," he said. The pipeline company has filed an application with the Federal Power Commission seeking authority to bring an additional supply of gas to the Chicago area. The most optimistic etimates indicate that this new supply from the Rocky Mountain area will not be available befor 1958.

In the company's filing with the Commission, it is specified that adequate storage facilities for the alternate fuel must be provided by the customer, and that dual-fuel service will be available to an individual customer only until such time as he qualifies for full space heating service. Space heat waiting list positions will not be changed by use of dual-fuel service, and provisions are made to include customers not on this waiting list at the present time.

Chandler explained that the proposed dual-fuel service would not affect the supply required for full-time heating customers on the coldest days of the winter, since dual-fuel customers would not be using natural gas when the temperature dropped below the cut-off point.

New Planes

Successor to the Army's L-17 plane is the L-20, which carries a pilot and six passengers; a pilot, three litter patients and a medical attendant, or a pilot and about 1,600 pounds of cargo. The L-20 is known as the "Beaver." Another new plane is the twin-engine L-23, which carries one pilot and five passengers or the equivalent in cargo and has a safety feature which permits emergency operation on only one of its engines.

Building for New Convent Begins to Rise at St. Peter's

New Vanilla Cupcakes From A Mix

Do you need a reason for giving a party? If you do, you can always find one. It's a beautiful day! It's junior's birthday. Sis has graduated, or you just happen to feel like giving a party (and that's the best reason of all!)

Nowadays, there's no longer any excuse for saying "I just haven't the time to prepare party foods." As long as you have a package of Flako "Cuplets" Vanilla Cupcake Mix on your food shelf, you can whip up party fare in less than five minutes making time, twenty minutes baking time. This is the only cupcake mix there is with a "built-in" vanilla flavor.

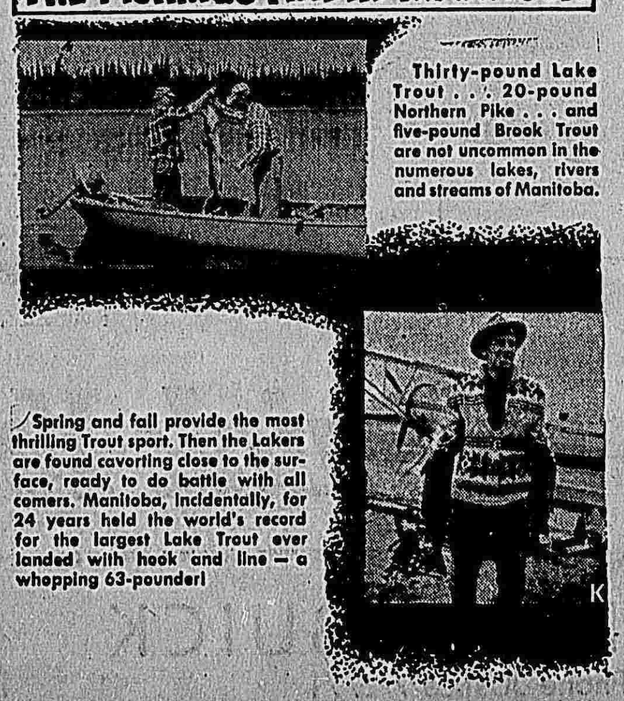

Here are some suggestions for varying the basic recipe:

Little orange juice cupcakes: Substitute half a cup of orange juice for the milk in the basic recipe, prepare batter as directed on package. Add one tablespoon of grated orange rind before baking.

Spice-nut cupcakes: Blend into the dry mix one quarter of a teaspoon each of cinnamon, nutmeg and cloves. Prepare batter as directed.

Blueberry cupcakes: Stir one cup of fresh or thawed frozen blueberries into the batter before baking.

THE FISHING'S FINE IN MANITOBA

Thirty-pound Lake Trout . . . 20-pound Northern Pike . . . and five-pound Brook Trout are not uncommon in the numerous lakes, rivers and streams of Manitoba.

Spring and fall provide the most thrilling Trout sport. Then the Lakers are found cavorting close to the surface, ready to do battle with all comers. Manitoba, incidentally, for 24 years held the world's record for the largest Lake Trout ever landed with hook and line — a whopping 63-pounder!

● Talk about diplomatic immunity! Even squirrels seem to be going in for bureaucracy. In Lafayette Park, across the street from the White House in Washington, D. C., squirrels have contracted scabies, a skin irritation caused by mites, and are being taken to Washington Zoo for treatment. However, squirrels living on the White House lawn have not, as yet, been hit by the disease.

● You can weigh well above the considered "norms" and still not be "overweight," according to a college professor in Ohio. It's not how much weight you carry around, he points out, but how much of that weight is subcutaneous fat. Using an x-ray method to measure fat, he says no other body tissue varies to such an extent.

Librarian Believes Automation Should Stay in Factories

LOS ANGELES—Automation is all right in a factory but it is a dangerous animal to let loose in a library, warns Dr. Lawrence Clark Powell, librarian at the University of California, Los Angeles.

Writing in the "1956 Bookman's Yearbook," Dr. Powell casts a suspicious eye at the "would-be housekeepers, analysts, probers and planners who long to de-emphasize books, mechanize the library, and change its name to "materials center.'"

Dr. Powell, who is current president of the Bibliographical Society of America, adds that "we now have documentalists, communications clerks, and media men who blank out when they hear the words library, librarian, book and reading."

The Los Angeles campus librarian insists that the administration of a library be efficient and economical. But he is thoroughly alarmed at the growing jargon of technicians about automation, bibliographical control, contact points, mass media, decision-making processes, retrieval of information, and the dissemination of knowledge. "These people will do everything to a book but read it," he warns.

Piano Popularity Grows and Grows

CHICAGO—In an age when a marvel like radio can be superseded in one generation by the miracle of television—a mechanism that has remained the undisputed center of Western culture for more than 200 years is indeed a marvel. This is the story of the piano, virtually the same in mechanical principle today as when it ascended to eminence more than two centuries ago.

Today's piano with its 25,000 contact points and 8,000 moving parts was already bringing pleasure and education to every corner of civilization way back in 1856.

At the start, the piano was the mark of gracious and intelligent living. But as democracy has spread, the piano as a symbol of the fruits of achievement spread even faster. Today, the piano is enjoyed by people of all ages, in all sections, and in all income brackets. It is equally at home in the school room, the concert hall, the factory recreation hall, the church and the living room.

Throughout its fascinating history the piano has remained the mark of sensitivity and achievement. Some 20 million Americans can attest to this today, for that's the number now playing for their own enjoyment and relaxation, according to the American Music Conference.

Big Shuckers Get Well-Needed Brakes

ELVERTA, Calif.—Local rice farmers often came a cropper in their self-propelled "paddy wagons" when harvest time rolled around—until they got a brake.

Giant combines, used by growers to harvest rice swiftly before start of the rainy season, presented unique steering problems because of size. They're about as big as a house. Operators, trying to steer by tank-type methods the tracked behemoths along peregrinating levees, became exhausted after a short time—and harvested only a portion of the crop.

Rice ranchers curried their brains for a solution and found it in hydraulic power-braking equipment, developed by the products division of Bendix Aviation corp. Now, steering is accomplished through hydraulic-actuated wheel cylinders by simply "flipping" a valve and applying light foot pressure.

An installation on the Ukropina ranch combine has made it possible to harvest from 600 to 700 sacks of rice a day, compared to a previous high of only 150 to 200 sacks, according to superintendent Paul Felter. That represents savings of $2500 a day.

Dad Offers Proposal For Far-Away Son

CLEVELAND—After his son returns home and gets married, Charles Sorci should prove a popular in-law.

The son, Pfc. Gerald Sorci, 18, is on duty with the Marines in Japan. He phoned his father and asked him to "take his place" and propose to his girl friend.

So the elder Sorci, with a ring and some orchids in hand, made the pitch to Amy Raber, 18, who put on a new blue dress for the occasion.

Joke's on Jokester

CHARLES CITY, Iowa—James Condon got the worst of it when he joked with his friends.

Condon told them in jest they could paint his house for him while he was away for a few days. When he returned he found that the friends had taken him at his word—applying light blue, cream, green, yellow and pink paints to his house.

More Men Than Women Are Killed in Accidents

Chicago—Don't laugh at your wife because you think she's a scaredy-cat. The National Safety Council says feminine prudence and skill are playing a part in holding the accidental death toll of women to about half the toll of men!

The Council's statistical yearbook, "Accident Facts," which is just off the press, also points out, however, that men are more exposed to danger because of their occupations and activities.

More women than men were killed in falls in 1954—the latest figure available. But the difference was not very great—551. And in all the other seven principal causes of accidental deaths, men outnumbered women.

Motor vehicle accidents killed 26,725 men, 8,861 women; falls, 9,610 men, 10,161 women; fire burns, 3,372 men, 2,711 women; drownings, 5,450 men, 884 women; railroad accidents, 2,129 men, 487 women; firearms, 2,016 men; 265 women; poison gases, 818 men, 342, women; and poisons (except gas), 779 men, 560 women.

ALL ABOUT BIRDS by WALDMAN

The study of birds is becoming more and more popular. An interesting sidelight is the increasing use of birds as symbols. The Encyclopedia of American Birds lists six species of Cardinals but the most popular ones are on major league scoreboards — the St. Louis Cardinals.

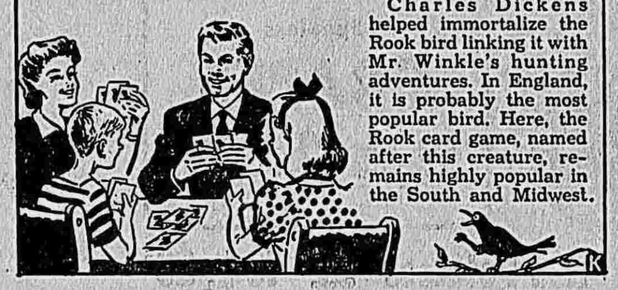

The Dove, whose length ranges from 6¾ to 13 inches, rests proudly with its olive branch, symbolic of peace the world over.

Eagles average about 3 feet in length with the female several inches larger than the male. The bald eagle symbolizes a free America. Its wing-spread reaches 7½ feet and it is, generally, a harmless species.

Charles Dickens helped immortalize the Rook bird linking it with Mr. Winkle's hunting adventures. In England, it is probably the most popular bird. Here, the Rook card game, named after this creature, remains highly popular in the South and Midwest.

More Americans Died on Hwys. in 1955 than Were Killed in Korea

Chicago—More Americans died on the highways in 1955 alone than on the battlefield during the entire Korean war!

The National Safety Council's statistical yearbook, "Accident Facts," just off the press, shows there were 38,300 traffic deaths in the United States in 1955. Official Defense Department records list the battle death in the Korean War at 33,629.

"We don't for a moment want to imply that the highway is as hazardous as the battlefield," said Ned H. Dearborn, president of the Council. "But the fact is that the loss to the nation from the 1955 traffic toll is greater in terms of human life than the loss sustained in the Korean War. Therefore, it's certainly worth getting excited about."

Approximately 1,350,000 Americans were injured in motor vehicle accidents during the year, the Council said.

Tuesday, Wednesday Safest Days to Travel

Chicago — Driving somewhere? Then take advantage of reduced accident rates by traveling on Tuesday or Wednesday.

"Accident Facts," the National Safety Council's statistical yearbook, just off the press, shows that in 1955 more than twice as many fatal motor vehicle accidents occurred on Saturday and Sunday than on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Reports from 36 states show these fatal accident percentages of the week's total toll: Saturday, 22; Sunday 20; Friday, 15; Monday 12; Thursday 11; Tuesday and Wednesday, 10 each.

A city feller was tryin' to talk Ol' Sam into buying a bicycle the other day. "I'd ruther spend my money on a cow," Sam said.

"But think," the feller insisted, "how foolish you'd look riding around on a cow."

"Not half so foolish as I'd look tryin' to milk a bicycle!" said Ol' Sam.

I was readin' in the papers the other day that the once-fertile lands of the Tigris and Euphrates Rivers, over in the Near East—where lots of fellers think the Garden of Eden was located—is now a barren waste-land. That's right—because people cut down all the trees and never planted any more!

Well, sir, in our own forests, log-gers are swingin' their axes and runnin' their saws at a faster rate than ever before—but there's no danger that they'll destroy our forestlands! 'Cause tree growth today exceeds tree cutting! And the reason for this is tree farms—which now cover 38 million acres of private land in the U.S. alone. This is a great start—so let's keep planting more than we cut!

* * *

The best thing to do, when you harvest your trees, is to figure how to get your wood to the railroad siding or the mill at the least expense. I always plan to haul from low places while the ground is dry, or—in the winter—when it's frozen solid. If my trees aren't too scattered, I throw them along the path my truck will follow, then load directly from stump to truck. 'Course, a feller who uses a team or a horse will work differently from the feller with a tractor. Every job is a little different. Main thing is to avoid unnecessary handling of the wood. 'Cause, when you save handling, you save money!

Gas vs. Electric

Who's Faster Than What? Culinary Debate Gets Hot

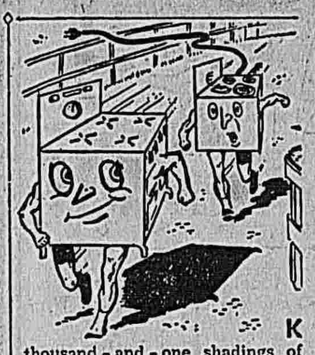

Recent claims by electric range manufacturers that their stoves are "faster than gas" have stirred up the culinary debate of the decade.

It seems that one of the "big boys" in electric appliances began proclaiming nationally that the stoves with the wire elements are "20 per cent faster" than the "flame type" ranges. Actually, according to the ads, the claim was "proved" by stacking an electric range with a 2,600-watt Calrod burner up against "four leading gas ranges" (unidentified) in a water-boiling contest.

It could have been, but wasn't, pointed out that such a burner is so "souped up" that you need special wiring and proper voltage in the house to feed it; and if you had two or more of these gimmicks on an electric range, you'd have to set up a sort of do-it-yourself TVA in the back yard to supply the current they'd need.

Furthermore — and here the whole gas industry really begins to broil—the electric test was made with a certain definite amount of water in an aluminum utensil of a certain definite size with absolutely straight sides and a perfectly flat bottom that covers the entire 9-inch burner.

That's all right, says the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association, if you're planning to fix your family a couple of quarts of hot water in a heck of a hurry—and you have the proper utensil. But, if you're aiming to fry eggs or bacon to just the right turn, or fix a delicate hollandaise sauce, or deep-fat-fry some potatoes, or perform any of the dozens of functions for which the top of the stove is intended — you're not looking for high-speed heat. Instead, GAMA says, you're interested — "as apparently 32,000,000 American homes are — in the K thousand - and - one shadings of controlled heat attainable over the gas flame."

Fact of the matter is that while several gas range manufacturers have come out with burners that top the "fastest" electric range by a considerable margin, the gas range industry as a whole is concentrating, GAMA says, on producing stoves that meet "more important" demands.

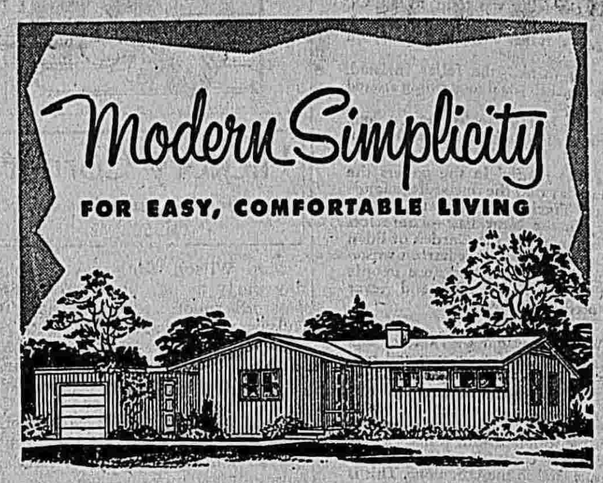

These include ranges with top burner heat controls that make an "automatic utensil" of every pot and pan in your home, special simmer-type burners, broilers that double as rotisseries and barbecue pits, and devices that control the "doneness" of roast and poultry, among other things.

Maybe the answer to the "who's faster than what" question is being supplied by the homemakers themselves. This year, GAMA reports, shapes up as the tenth year in a row in which more than 2,000,000 gas ranges are sold.

TWO CHAMPIONS OF THE ROAD... both Chevrolets!

To the eye, the new Corvette and the new Chevrolet are far different. But these two champions have one superb quality in common—both were born to cling to the road as though they were part of it!

Chevrolet's astonishing roadability is a big reason why it's America's short track stock car racing champion. It can and does out-run and out-handle cars with 100 more horsepower. When you wed rock-solid stability to superb engines such as the 225-h.p. V8 that flashed the Corvette to a new American sports car record—then you get a real championship combination. Stop by for a sample!

America's largest selling car—2 million more owners than any other make.

Tips on Traffic Safety

By CHARLES F. CARPENTIER
Secretary of State

Many times you've heard about the driver who has the wrong mental attitude when behind a steering wheel. Just what type of driver is he? Perhaps you'll recognize some one you know in the following groups.

There are those drivers who are certain that an accident will happen to another fellow, but never to them. They seem to think they are smarter, or luckier, than the other fellow. They are convinced that accident victims are not very intelligent. And they are just as sure that they themselves are immune.

Then, too, there are drivers who believe that an accident happens or it doesn't. It is their philosophy that accidents are inevitable when the time comes. Could it be that they are attempting to alibi their own carelessness? They will never believe that accidents don't "happen," they are "caused!"

Close to the above mentioned group are those drivers who write off accidental death and injury to the law of averages. To them the motorist is doomed to death or injury on the highway despite precaution merely because of the factor of chance. Here again we have drivers who will never believe that accidents don't "happen," they are "caused!"

A copy of the completely new "Rules of the Road" booklet will be sent to you free upon request. Write to CHARLES F. CARPENTIER, Secretary of State, Springfield, Illinois.

OUT ON A LIMB

By Stumpy McCulloch

It was no secret to my neighbor Gulliver that his second-hand tractor was a heavy gas-eater. But the other day he pulled into a fillin' station and left the motor running while the feller filled the tank, and after about ten minutes the feller said, "Would you mind shuttin' the motor off, buddy? You're gettin' ahead of me!"

• • • •

Ol' Sam was askin' me questions about loggin' his wood lot the other day. If you own a wood lot or a small forest, and have never logged it, maybe you'd like to know the answers, too. I told Sam I know of four ways for loggin' a wood lot.

• • • •

One is clear cuttin', where you cut down every tree in sight. That's bad—unless you're planning to use the land for another kind of crop. Two is seed-tree cuttin' where you leave only 10 or 12 trees standing for reseeding purposes. That's bad, too—'cause a lot of time is wasted for reseeding' that ought to be devoted to growin'.

• • • •

Then there's cutting of all trees over a certain diameter. This isn't always best, because you may leave smaller trees that should come out, being deformed or unhealthy. Selective cutting is the best kind. By this method, you cut those trees that have fully matured, leaving others for seeding and others not yet fully grown. You may need the help of a forester, at least the first time. But you'll be sure every tree has the best chance to grow right, and you'll be cutting every tree at its highest value.

• • • •

Fellers who have only a few trees usually use a crosscut saw and an axe. Fellers with more trees gen'rally use a power saw. In cutting a tree, I always start out with a notching cut, on the side facin' the direction I want the tree to fall. 'Course, I can only influence the direction to a certain extent. If a tree is leanin' north, it generally won't fall south. Not unless you use a wedge or rope, the way a tree surgeon does.

Company's Coming!

For that very special occasion when you want to serve a really different and delicious dish, the Gourmet Society suggests:

CRAB AND SCALLOP ELEGANTE

2 6½ oz. cans Japanese King crabmeat
1½ cups Bay scallops, halved
½ bar butter or margarine
3 tblspns flour
¼ tspn grated nutmeg
1½ tspn salt
¼ tspn freshly ground pepper
3 tblspns chopped pimento
dash of cayenne pepper
4 eggs (yolks only)
2 cups light cream
4 tblspns sherry or Mosselle white wine
buttered bread crumbs
paprika
Hot biscuits, English muffins or toast points

(Remove hard membrane from crabmeat. Melt butter in blazer of chafing dish (or electric skillet heated to 350 F.). Add gradually, stirring with wooden spoon, the crabmeat, scallops and all seasonings listed in first column. Cook for 4 minutes. Place now over boiling water in chafing dish (or turn heat to "warm" on electric skillet).

Now beat the egg yolks lightly, blend in the cream, then pour gradually, stirring, into the crab-scallop mixture. Cook only lightly and briefly, until it thickens. Add now the sherry or wine, cook one minute more. Do not permit to boil.

Serve very hot on freshly baked hot biscuits, halved, on hot plates, and sprinkle with bread crumbs and paprika. Alternate: English muffin halves, toasted, or toast points.

Serves 4-6.

PHILADELPHIA, PA. — A swimming pool in every backyard may seem as remote a possibility as did a car in every garage a couple of generations ago but if private pools continue to multiply at the present rate it isn't improbable. Ten years ago there were only 2,000 residential swimming pools in the entire U.S. This year 35,000 families have their own pools. A large eastern swimming pool contractor reports that their construction of privately-owned pools has doubled during the past year. Ease of financing is part of the picture since a pool is considered a home improvement and can be financed by banks and paid for in installments like automobiles or other home improvements.

It's a real bonanza for the youngsters, providing healthful pleasures combined with the development of skills and sportsmanship, without the dangers of pollution and infection that plagued the ole swimmin' hole. Small pools, like large public pools, are easily kept clean and bacteria-free through the use of chlorine. With the phenomenal increase in residential pools, manufacturers have made this chemical available to householders in small packages in the form of a powder that can be used safely and effectively in the smallest wading pools. The manufacturers of one of the most widely used chlorine sanitizers, Per-Chlor-On, provide a nylon bag as a simplified dispenser. A small quantity put into the bag and sloshed through the water at intervals destroys dangerous bacteria.

Prevention of athlete's foot and risks of infection from cuts is accomplished by sanitizing the pool area and providing footbaths of Per-Chlor-On solutions. The product also controls algae, a greenish colored growth that sometimes discolors water and forms slime. The makers, Pennsalt Chemicals, 3 Penn Center Plaza, Philadelphia 2, Pa. have published a useful booklet "Pool Owners Guide" which they will furnish free of charge on request. It describes details of sanitation for all types of pools.
